Authorized IBM Global Training Provider

LearnQuest has been selling IBM Training for 17 years. What sets us apart from other training providers are in-depth knowledge of IBM software and systems, an innovative approach to learning, and the ability to customize courses for our clients.

IBM products and technologies often strategically align with client development methodologies and processes.

In addition, IBM products and tools are flexible and customizable in that they can be adapted to suit a wide variety of training requirements. LearnQuest partners with clients to blend IBM products, technologies, and methodologies to process training; this innovation drives a better understanding of the product, faster adoption, and expedites an effective use of the solution.

Premier Business Partner
IBM

Authorized Training
Global Training Provider

Several key benefits of LearnQuest's IBM Global Training Provider status for our clients are:

- IBM's entire catalog of instructor-led, SPVC, WBT, or just instructor-led and eLearning available for delivery through LearnQuest

- Highest quality of IBM classes backed by LearnQuest's ACCET accredited training delivery and quality control processes

- Flexibility and agility in customizing and tailoring course content to meet your business needs

- Ability to purchase courseware for internal facilitation through enterprise content licensing

- LearnPass, a prepay program similar to IBM's EdPacks, allows clients to receive equivalent discounts for volume commitments on IBM classes and other LearnQuest offerings

- Existing EdPack funds can be redeemed through LearnQuest
